I love you two!

I, Chadderick B. Sullivan leave Jeff nothing. To Brother Brian, all the scums smoking in the bathroom and a B-52. To Jason, a bigger butt and a bigger smile. To Dust, you will never be able to touch my bass, even if you get twenty eights. And to Leanne I leave ME!

I, Barton Swaim, leave to Karl, a passenger's seat to feel at how w/, an inflatable punch-o-girlfriend and 2-1/2 years of our well-rounded ego! Johnna, an especially honest friend: some other ignorant friend to take her to Columbia, a pair of boxing gloves for our next argument, and a jock strap cause she's one of the guys. Deej - a furnace. Allen: a stop watch ((bought one for myself). King - a few million hairs; O.J. - I'm stumped here, pal, and you know why. To Melissa, my fellow hater of people in general: love, love, love. And to a certain shy and very attractive girl: thanks very much.

I, Kelley Swaim, hereby leave the following things to the following people: Julie - a recreational vehicle, a trip to the doctor, Made in the USA, and Mystic Pizza; Lauren - a drunken chickien to barbecue and first row, first seat; Michelle - a 5 on the exam and a job you actually like; Jeff A. - modesty and your own country; Chris R. - a liberal, liberated woman; Lorraine - solo trips home from UVA; Tony F. - your own copies of Chess, Phantom, and Les Mis, and a murder weapon; and for all the underclassmen - my sympathy for having to endure another year (or 2 or 3 . . .) in this place!

I Jackie Symonds leave Michelle K. Papa Smurf, Jon's wet bed, pool house escapades, Skip . . . hanging out, a doo-doo sweater, fork you, FFB, a boyfriend with a real job, thanks for being my best bud - I love ya! Ashley D. - the book How to Avoid Fashion Faux Paas, Turtle wax, a nasty pink prom dress, a leash on those hormones. Kimberly W. a first date - oops! you finally got that, M.B.'s awesome kiss, partying at the Paladium, a buzz off two coolers, a perm that'll hold. Leanne S. Roommates forever! gatorade, sweaty memories of camp, a new boyfriend. S. Winfield - a new car, last summer, go to sleep. . . sleep, all the good times, AA. John M. - a b-ball team with a real color, the G.C., a cherokee, Harry's services on Friday nights, Valentine's Day, and directions to the prom. You're a sweetheart. Tad - afroshreen for the "fro." Eric - the little yellow skirt, rooster hairdo. Bobo - a commitment form Shera. Sajal - sweatpants on the beach and food. Fout's physics classes - the answers. Julie - a ride to school, a new haircut, and all of the chores next year. Shera - an I.D. Dustin - burps, arguments in first, a new idol - diceman is getting old. The cheerleaders - nationals, survey says "10," sleeping late this summer, and Snay's "one more time." Angi J. another dent in the Joey beginner's cookbook. To Lee, driving lessons, a car that drives itself through parking lots, and your own police department. To Sonja - a go cart and a cure for procrastination. To Melody - patience and a break. To Lisa, my best wishes for the future. You deserve all the wonderful things it has to give you! To Ms. Shuford - a turtle. To Mrs. Pace - all my thanks for everything you've done. You're wonderful! To Ms. Alred, my prayers for you. Thanks for all of yours! To Mr. Chandler, a guitar. Your music and encouragement made the year a lot better.

I Sheila Taylor leave Melissa - two points, war fashions, a twin sister. Christy - a series of slumber parties, beer, cheerleading. Curt - shots of everything. Trina - CPR lessons, a Billybob Race, Hidden cake, a booth disco, a car lot, Kujo, adventures to come. You're a true friend. Allison - Shedynof, transitions, nodoz, ninth grade. Megan - an adventure to die for, lots of strange noises, and facial expressions. You're a true friend. SNAY - thanks for being the best! Brother Scott - my great times in high school. Parents - thanks for being tolerant and loving. I love you! Curtis - Thanks for all the parties, talks, spazzes, and hugs. We've had great times. I'll love you forever.

I Kelly Thompson, do hereby leave to Lauren a taxi, a functioning visor mirror, and one more cat. To Julie I leave sun rays, Hawaiian Tropic and Natural Born Americans. To Michelle, I leave hair thickening agents and a sibling (what's that?) To Anisa I leave a good physics group, patience (all good things come to those who wait!) and green. To Melanie I leave my wonderful little hideaway. To Johnna I leave procrastination, and essays that go forever. To Chris, I leave 4 course lunches with leftovers and liberation — you can't fight it forever.

I Scott Thompson leave Stephanie paper. Sue, my phone number. Pat, a new girl friend, Chris, a salad shooter. Melissa a pizza. Spring day all the grass drills I've ever done. Clare the cadaver of a felis domesticus not a test tube bebe. Ray-Ray my Starting position and a new elbow. Bill, I leave you nothing. "It's not fair." Bob, I'm gonna have ta killya. Shawn a commode. Coach McCarty, thanks for everything you have taught me. Jeff a new knee and some mustache clippers. Shelly the ability to communicate. Pat, Paula Abdul, to all my friends good luck in that big bad world. Do ya know Dori?

I Scott Thompson also remind Randy he will stay with us on our uphill climb. I wish Nikki the best in everything. You deserve it. Holly a Piedmont Pen. Jeannie more sweetness. Jeriann best of luck next year and Kevin thanks for the memories and the laughs. I'll never forget the 4 in first and the 13 in Iran wars. Sandy, the best in all you do at Fairmont. All my Love. And to everyone Lata and God Bless You All! Christy, I leave you four dollars. Thanks for paying for this!
